Our Recommendation

Geovelo is a website providing you any biking routes you want !

Mostly located in Europe, just enter your departure point and your arrival, then, let the website find the most suitable route for your trip !

All data about your trip are available directly onto the website and you can personalize it as much as you want.

It is an amazing website to start biking tourism or just have a trip to discover Europe !

What are SELF-GUIDED TOURS ?

Self-guided cyclism tourism is one of the many ways you can discover cycling tourism.

Take your bike and go on your own adventure ! There, you can travel without a guide and you are left with Maps, GPS or cycling apps.

This will allow you a great flexibility in case you want to change plans last minute. It also guarantees you a great independence.

This is ideal for someone who already knows cyclism tourism or for people willing for adventurous trips !
